R's sister had a baby recently, maybe buy her a little UCLA t-shirt? Also bring a few tangerines with you.

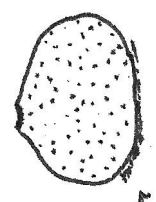

Buy mandarins and a birthday card at Trader Joe's.

Oh, and it's Aunt A's 70th birthday on Thursday. Get her a card? Perhaps a small cake if you have time?

Three days to go

Eat one of the mandarins for breakfast to make sure they're good. They're not bad, but they could be better?

mandarin, not a diseased bao

Two days to go

Happen upon the UCLA farmers market, with much citrus. Spot Satsumas with leaves. Perfect! Eat sample. Ponder number to buy, pick out five.

One day to go

Discover soft spot on one satsuma. Can't bring that one. But now there are only four! ~~Not~~ Can't give four satsumas.

Settle on three satsumas and two mandarins. Look for receptacle. Best option is a Chinese bakery box. That says 中秋月餅 on the side.

Chinese New Year!

Get picked up by cousin J. and Aunt A. Settle in for the drive across Los Angeles.

You should find someone, get to know him for a few years, and then get married.
